

As a founding member of the Sage Software Authorized Training Center (ATC) program, started in 1996, Kissinger offers certified training courses every week of the year in the company's conveniently-located Wyomissing (Reading), PA training center. Kissinger's dedication to training excellence earns high marks from training students who use the facility to become more confident and successful with their business management solutions.

"I've enjoyed and learned a lot from the variety of MAS 90 classes I have recently taken. The training is enough to get the creative juices flowing... I'm eager to go back and apply the knowledge to my specific company."

—Donna V.

"I was very impressed with the class. The instructor was very well versed on the course."

—Doris S.

"I am very happy that I participated in the class. The instructor was very helpful and an excellent teacher. He answered every question in detail for everyone in the class."

—Violet W.

"The instructor was very helpful. I really enjoyed the class. The reference material is easy to follow and user friendly."

—Laura L.

Hands-On, Instructor-Led Training Classes

► Flexible Class Offerings

Take your choice from our schedule of class offerings: select a full week of classes or take them individually when you have the time. The way you do it is up to you. We know that your schedule is busy and our goal is to offer classes and options that work for you.

► Certified Training Curriculum

Students receive certified course curriculum with lab exercises. The course curriculum serves as a guide during class and is also a useful resource when you return to your office to work with your own system.

► Certified Trainers

When you attend a training class, you will learn from a Certified Trainer who possesses real-world training experience as well as classroom training skills. Our Certified Trainers split their time between teaching in the classroom and working on-site with clients. Our trainers have solid backgrounds in the ways many types of businesses use the software and they can bring that knowledge to you.

► Classroom Resources

When you come to class, you will experience learning sessions that combine lecture time, hands-on demonstrations, lab exercises, and interactive Q & A. You'll have your own PC and the ability to view all of the instructor's demonstrations on a high-quality large screen projection system.

► Small Class Sizes

To ensure that every student receives a personalized, comprehensive learning experience, we keep our class sizes small. This means that you will have lots of opportunities for one-on-one interaction with your instructor. The training center environment is conducive to learning: no phones ringing, no one interrupting you with questions, no customers to serve.

► Continuing Professional Education (CPE)

Kissinger is a member of the National Registry of CPE Sponsors, allowing students from any state to earn and receive CPE credit by attending classes.

Students experience a comfortable learning environment in our convenient suburban location with easy access to hotels, restaurants and shopping centers—many within walking distance!
